OPIOID & STIMULANT FACT SHEET

JUSTICE DEPARTMENT AWARDS MORE THAN $340 MILLION TO COMBAT OPIOID AND STIMULANT CRISES

The Department of Justice’s Office of Justice Programs awarded grants totaling more than $340 million to help fight the addiction crisis looming over the United States, dramatically impacting crime victims, children, families, first responders and communities at large.

Four components within OJP – the Bureau of Justice Assistance (BJA), the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention (OJJDP), the Office for Victims of Crime (OVC) and the National Institute of Justice (NIJ) – provided funds to address the opioid and stimulant crisis. The following grants were awarded to help fight this crisis:

Comprehensive Opioid, Stimulant, and Substance Abuse Site-based and Harold Rogers Prescription Drug Monitoring Programs

BJA awarded 110 grants totaling more than $147 million to jurisdictions under BJA’s Comprehensive Opioid, Stimulant, and Substance Abuse Site-based Program, which provides financial and technical assistance to state, local and tribal jurisdictions to reduce opioid and stimulant abuse and fatalities, and mitigate impacts on crime victims.

Authorized by the 2016 Comprehensive Addiction and Recovery Act, these programs offer grant awards across three focus areas.

Category 1 encourages and supports the development of comprehensive, locally driven responses to the opioid and stimulant epidemics that expand access to supervision, treatment and recovery support services across the criminal justice system; support law enforcement and other first responder diversion programs for non-violent drug offenders; promote education and prevention activities; and address the needs of children impacted by the opioid and stimulant epidemics. All projects are expected to involve multiple agencies and partners.

Adult Drug Court and Veterans Treatment Court Site-based Program

Through BJA, OJP awarded 123 grants for more than $57 million to jurisdictions and academic institutions to establish, expand, assist and research the effectiveness of adult drug courts, including veterans treatment courts.

Drug courts have been demonstrated to reduce recidivism and substance abuse among high-risk, high-need participants and increase their likelihood of successful rehabilitation. These courts integrate evidence-based substance abuse treatment, mandatory drug testing, sanctions and incentives, and transitional services in judicially supervised court settings. BJA's Adult Drug Court and Veterans Treatment Court Discretionary Grant Program provides financial and technical assistance to states, state courts, local courts, units of local government and tribal governments to develop, implement and enhance drug courts and veterans treatment courts.

BJA made awards in four categories: implementation of new veterans treatment courts (Category 1); enhancement of existing fully operational veterans treatment courts (Category 2); implementation of new drug courts and/or enhancement of existing drug courts (Category 3); and support for statewide efforts to enhance or expand adult drug court or veterans treatment court services statewide (Category 4).

Family Drug Court Program

OJJDP awarded nearly $20 million across 21 jurisdictions under its Family Drug Court Program to build the capacity of state and local courts, units of local government and federally recognized tribal governments to enhance existing family drug courts or implement statewide or countywide family drug court practices. The program aims to increase collaboration with substance abuse treatment and child welfare systems to ensure the provision of treatment and other services for families that improve child, parent, and family outcomes.

OJJDP made awards in two categories: Category 1 funded the expansion of parental substance use disorder treatment services in existing family drug courts, including screening, assessment, case management and recovery support services. Category 3 funded state and county efforts to enhance or expand family drug court treatment and recovery practices at the state and county levels to more effectively serve families affected by opioid, stimulant and other substance use disorders. (Note: Category 2 was intended to provide access to recovery services for veteran parents with substance use disorders, but no applications for funding were received. Therefore, no awards were made in this category.)
