

Approaching Partners For Your Fatality Review

2. Ensure you have a robust confidentiality and affiliation process

Formalize, legitimize and standardize

3. Identify the right members for your fatality review

You are only as strong as your membership.

4. Invite partners to your fatality review

Follow the North Star, build relationships, advocate that this data is important to combat the overdose epidemic

1. Identify where you will obtain your decedent data and develop a clear procedure for how your review will work

Have a strong foundation to build your review process on

5. During the review and after, have the data be available for members

Remaining data-focused and action-oriented keeps members involved
